A GOOD WINTER WIFE -A negro man has just applied to a Milton magistrate to know how to get his wife back. Milton is only separated from the Virginia line by a small creek, and it seems the woman's brother had run ber off from her husband and taken her across the creek. "How can I get ber, boss, un what's de law in Virginny?" asked the negro. "The cheapest way," said the magistrate, "is to have no law about it; just go across the creek and overpower her and bring her home." do it, boss," said the negro; "a hard winter settin' in, no wood and no nutlin; but dat gal weighs 200, and s'te gibs out heat like a stove. d'only time a wife's a comfort " He waded the creek with a steer whin in one band and a long rope in the other - Raleigh Sentinel

THE ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE and VIRGINIA ADVERTISER, already read by three generations, proposes to continue its useful life, and now enters into another volume, determined to be the newspaper of the era in Never have the times d manded more than now sound, thoughtful journalism. Seldom have the people had deeper interests at stake. Never did the events of the hour, as they unfold themselves, surpass in personal interest to every citizen those which are now transpiring Never has the importance of early, authentic intelligence of public matters been of greater importance to every one.

To meet this new era in journalism, the Ga ZETTE will put forth its utmost endeavor, and its success during this entire century in catering to the wants and meeting the wishes of the peo ple, guarantees that with this paper promise means performance.

Washington is now the point to which al eyes look and all ears are directed. Almost at the base of the Capital, and yet in a Virginia town, amid a community which has proved its faithfulness to Virginia in more than one fiery trial; surrounded by the traditions and hopes of the Commonwealth, the GAZETTE has a position unique among journals and promises to be wortny of it. Its contiguity to Washington gives it an early precedence over all the journals of the State in intelligence of the operations of the General Government, now of such vital importance to the people of the South. The proceedings of Congress, seldom so interesting as now, will be regularly reported in succinct form for its columns, but all matters of especial interest in Virginia will be given in detail. Two gentlemen connected with the paper are constantly at the Federal capital, and the Wash ington news of the Gazette has for a long time been the fountain of Washington news for the

The continual favors of those who have once used the Gazette as an advertising medium is a warrant for saying that it pays to advertise in its

The Gazette came into existence before the opening of the present century. Few newspapers in the country are its seniors.

During all this period its prominent object has been to advance the interests of the people of whose life it is the daily chronicle. Its fortunes have been their fortunes; it has shared their prosperity and suffered in their disasters. Its inspiration has been the desire to forward the best interests of the community in which it is located, and its own prosperity is, as it has been purposely made, inseparable from that of the community it aims to represent. When they grow rich it hopes for a reward commensurate with its labors. While they are poor it expects to work with them and for them, expecting to make their success the measure of its own.
